

SAN DIEGO

FAMILY

MORE TOY REVIEWS

FREE
December 2009

Skate through the Holidays

Seasonal Savings
SanDiegoFamily.com
12 Days of Giveaways

Map of Christmas Lights

Be Green
Buy a Real Tree!

San Diego's BEST Day-by-Day Calendar of Events

Holiday Toy Review

Great ideas for games and gifts

Kirsten Flournoy

Want some direction on what to get your kids for Christmas? These toys were tested and reviewed by the people who know best—San Diego kids and their families. Scores were given based on educational value, creativity, price, assembly and the “fun” factor. If you think “FREE” has a nice ring to it (we sure do!), look for the icon to find the toys you could win for your family. Visit SanDiegoFamily.com and click “Contest” for a chance to win one of the “Hottest Toys of the Season.”

For more toy reviews, go to SanDiegoFamily.com		Description	Surprises	Parents Should Know	What the Kids Like
	Shred Sled 8+ years $119.99 Theshredsled.com	Using movements similar to those that propel surfboards and snowboards, riders use their hips, legs and arms to move instead of pushing off.	Jacob, age 12, says, “It was a lot easier than expected, coming from a guy with barely any skateboard experience!”	It can be dangerous; as with any skateboard so wear protective gear. Takes practice to learn to balance on it. Comes assembled and ready to go!	Jacob says, “I can’t wait to use it when I get home from school!” Score: 10
Using movements similar to those that propel surfboards and snowboards, riders use their hips, legs and arms to move instead of pushing off.	Jacob, age 12, says, “It was a lot easier than expected, coming from a guy with barely any skateboard experience!”	It can be dangerous; as with any skateboard so wear protective gear. Takes practice to learn to balance on it. Comes assembled and ready to go!	Jacob says, “I can’t wait to use it when I get home from school!” Score: 10

San Diego Family Magazine

San Diego, CA

December 2009

Circulation: 116,834

